Welcome to Searchlight

Searchlight is a leading provider of training services to the insurance and financial services professions.

Whether you're looking for technical, regulatory compliance, leadership, sales and marketing, professional or IT skills training, we can help. Delivered via e-learning, webinar or face-to-face training, we offer market-leading, flexible solutions. We can also write bespoke material to support your in-house training and learning management systems.

We have been operating for over twenty years, and our nationwide team of trainers has hundreds of years' combined insurance experience between them. All our trainers have an array of technical and other general insurance specific knowledge and, most importantly, the ability to bring the subject matter to life with energy and enthusiasm.

The importance of continuous learning

Of course, some training is mandatory. Ongoing competence assessment and employee development are part of FCA regulation. If you are a regulated business, you are required to 'employ personnel with the skills, knowledge and expertise necessary for the discharge of the responsibilities allocated to them.' You must also demonstrate that you have done this. We specialise in these subject areas and provide CPD certificates where appropriate.

But the benefits of continuous professional development extend far beyond that. For employees, it builds confidence, keeps skills up-to-date, aids career progression and makes them feel valued. For your business, the benefits include high and consistent standards across the company, greater workforce engagement and commitment, sharing of industry best practice, and maximisation of staff potential.

What types of organisation can we help?

- General Insurance brokers, providers and networks
